

CONTENTS

General Editors' Preface	9
Author's Preface	11
Abbreviations	13
Bibliography	17
Introduction	23
A. The Importance of Romans	23
B. The Place and Date of Writing	25
C. The Occasion and Purpose for Romans	25
D. Christianity in Rome	27
E. The Unifying Theology of Romans	28
F. The Rhetorical Genre and Logical Organization of Romans	34
G. The Different Text Forms of Romans	38
II. The Gospel of God's Righteousness: Romans 1:16—15:13 (continued)	41
C. God's Righteousness in History (9:1—11:36)	41
Introduction	41
1. The Problem of Israel's Unbelief (9:1-5)	45
2. The First Answer: God's Promises Are Only to Believers (9:6-29)	51
3. The Second Answer: Israel Rejected for Unbelief (9:30—10:21)	68
4. The Third Answer: Israel's Rejection Not Final (11:1-32)	89
5. Concluding Doxology (11:33-36)	122
D. God's Righteousness in Practice (12:1—15:13)	124
1. The Basis of Christian Ethics (12:1-2)	126
2. Love Expresses the Righteousness of God (12:3—13:10)	141
3. An Ethic of the Dawn (13:11-14)	192
4. Love Expresses the Acceptance of Christ in Community Life (14:1—15:13)	201
III. Conclusion: Romans 15:14—16:27	239
A. Paul's Travel Plans (15:14-33)	240
1. To Rome and to Spain (15:14-22)	240
2. But First to Jerusalem (15:23-33)	254
B. Paul's Recommendation of Phoebe (16:1-2)	264
C. Paul's Greetings to Acquaintances (16:3-16)	267
D. Paul's Warnings About False Teachers (16:17-20)	275
E. Greeting from Paul's Companions (16:21-24)	279
F. Doxology (16:25-27)	282